Things that stress out students (and their advisors)...

“My advising plan is due by the deadline!”
- False. It’s not.

“Will you write my recommendation?”
- Likely no. Only people who have graded a student can write their rec.

“I need my internship form signed now!”
- No. Overseas Study advisors sign those.

“Can you sign my home school authorization form?”
- No. Overseas Study advisors sign those AFTER we accept students.

“How do I get a course approved for IUB credit?”
- We refer students to the academic advisor, who liaises with the faculty.
  *If you have a long timeline, let the student (and us!) know.
How Do I Know If A Program Is IU Or Non-IU?

The Office of Overseas Study offers over 130 programs open to any eligible student within the IU system. An additional 250 programs are offered through specific IU units (campuses, schools, departments, and other units). These programs are often limited to students within that unit.

There are thousands of additional study abroad programs offered through external institutions, known as “Non-IU programs.” If you are considering participating in a Non-IU program, follow the guidelines on our website and complete the required steps to remain in good standing with IU while you are abroad.

IU Programs
Over 380 programs administered or co-sponsored by Indiana University.

Non-IU Programs
Programs offered by external organizations.

Some differences between studying abroad on an IU program and a Non-IU program are:

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• Direct IU credit</td>
<td>• Transfer Credit</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Grades count in GPA</td>
<td>• Grades not calculated in GPA</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Count toward senior residency</td>
<td>• Do not count toward senior residency</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Most financial aid applicable</td>
<td>• Financial aid applicability varies</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

In-state residents will typically find IU programs more affordable than Non-IU programs. For out-of-state students it is rare to be able to study abroad on a program in your state at in-state tuition rates since you are not a degree-seeking candidate from the in-state institution.

Reminder: Study Abroad Advising Plans

Part II – bad example

![Image of Part II: List Remaining Degree Requirements]

Fact: students do not need to submit a completed advising plan by the program’s deadline...

Part II – good example

BUT they can work on it during their app phase.
Reminder: Policies

Forms
• Non-IU permission forms
• Financial aid forms
• Home School Nominations
• -> OVST signs

Academic Need
• Academic progress abroad
• 4-year plans
• Federal financial aid compliance
• -> Talk to OVST

GCC/WLC
• Non-IU
  • No GCC
  • Must do CTA for WLC
• IU
  • Semester co-sponsored fulfills both GCC and WLC
  • January/June reports for GCC
  • December/May reports for WLC

Internships
• Non-IU
  • NTRN until course approval
• IU
  • FRST-F 400
  • Dept’l approval
Reminder: Non-IU Procedures

Requirements:

1. Credit Transfer Agreement
2. Notification of Acceptance
   • Academic advisors complete Application for OVST-Y 496
3. Enrollment in OVST placeholder course

Resources:

1. Consult Credit Transfer Service to confirm how credits transfer
2. Meet with Overseas Study to discuss transfer credit process (we do NOT pick classes!)

(Deadlines: November 15 for spring programs, May 1 for summer/fall programs)

New: Scholarships through our office no longer have a separate application. When in doubt, have students ask us about scholarship applications.
Pell Grant = Gilman Scholarship eligibility

Our Gilman Canvas tutorial is for:

- Pell Grant recipients
- Understanding the eligibility
- Brainstorming essay content
- Practicing drafts
