The London Get Set predeparture handbook prepared by IES provides important information about the program, and you should read it with care. The following supplemental information pertains to Indiana University students only.

IES AND IU

The Institute for the International Education of Students (IES) is a nonprofit organization that administers nearly 100 study abroad programs in 36 cities in Asia, Australia, Europe and South America. More than 200 U.S. colleges and universities, including Indiana University, have formal agreements with IES, and their representatives work with the Institute to set academic policy and approve curricula. Through its office in Chicago, IES administers the London program during the academic year and the summer. The IU Office of Overseas Study has made special arrangements with IES for sponsorship of the Theatre program in London.

Professors Murray McGibbon and Nancy Lipschultz will teach the Theatre course in London. Because they are from IU and familiar with IU policies and procedures, they may be able to provide special liaison and counsel to IU students. Note, however, that their role is primarily as instructors. If you have questions regarding housing, or getting around London, or in case of emergency, contact the IES staff in London.

FINANCIAL ARRANGEMENTS

You pay all program fees directly to Indiana University. Any questions regarding finances for the program, including financial aid, should be addressed to the Office of Overseas Study at Indiana University. Students from other U.S. universities have different arrangements with IES regarding fees and housing deposits.

COURSES

You will earn 3 IU credits in Acting and Directing in London Theatre T344 or T544 for your course work on the program, and the grade will be computed in your GPA.
MEDICAL CARE

IES staff will provide a list of reputable physicians. They can assist you on-site if you have any medical problems.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Health insurance is included in your program fee. IES materials will provide a description of benefits.
